The 1975 Yearbook Is Dedicated to Mrs. Jeanice Noyes, Professor of Speech

Mrs. Noyes retired from the Grand View faculty in the spring, concluding 30 years of service. She is known for her pet phrase, "Hitch your sternum to a star."

Mrs. Noyes asked nothing of her students that she did not ask of herself. Her career is filled with achieved challenges.

In 1935 she graduated from Drake University with a Bachelor of Expression degree. After teaching in a high school at Pocahontas, Iowa for two years, she returned to Drake to establish their Children's Theatre. She did graduate work at the University of Southern California and received her Master of Fine Arts degree at the University of Iowa. She founded the Des Moines Community Children's Theatre and established the Speech and Theatre Department at Grand View in 1945.

"At that time there were three buildings on campus, a faculty of 15 and a student body of 150. The only room we could find for a classroom for the 'Speech' class was the dirty old storage room in the basement of the Seminary House on Boyd Street, so that's where I taught. In the spring of the second year the members of that class produced three, one-act plays in the chapel of Old Main, which remains our theatre. That was the beginning of our theatre program," said Mrs. Noyes.

For 15 years, she directed, built scenery, made lighting systems and with the aid of a former house-mother, Mrs. Anna Rasmussen, designed and sewed all the costumes. A book at the Grand View library holds the memories of these plays.

In 1960, Mr. Charles Dickson joined the Grand View faculty. He began directing plays as Mrs. Noyes continued to work on building-up the curriculum. When the three year program began at Grand View, the Speech and Drama Department was one of the first to be admitted.

Outside her work at Grand View, Mrs. Noyes wrote a textbook, CORE KNOWLEDGE FOR SUCCESSFUL SPEECH, published in 1969 by Scott Foresman and Co. In 1967, she was awarded the Distinguished Service Award from the professional speech fraternity; Zeta Phi Eta. Mrs. Noyes is a member of their educational board and continues to write for their educational speech publication, CAMEO. She was listed in the 1966-67 edition of WHO'S WHO OF AMERICAN WOMEN, and recently in COMMUNITY LEADERS AND NOTE-WORTHY AMERICANS. Mrs. Noyes is also a member of various social, honorary drama and writing organizations.

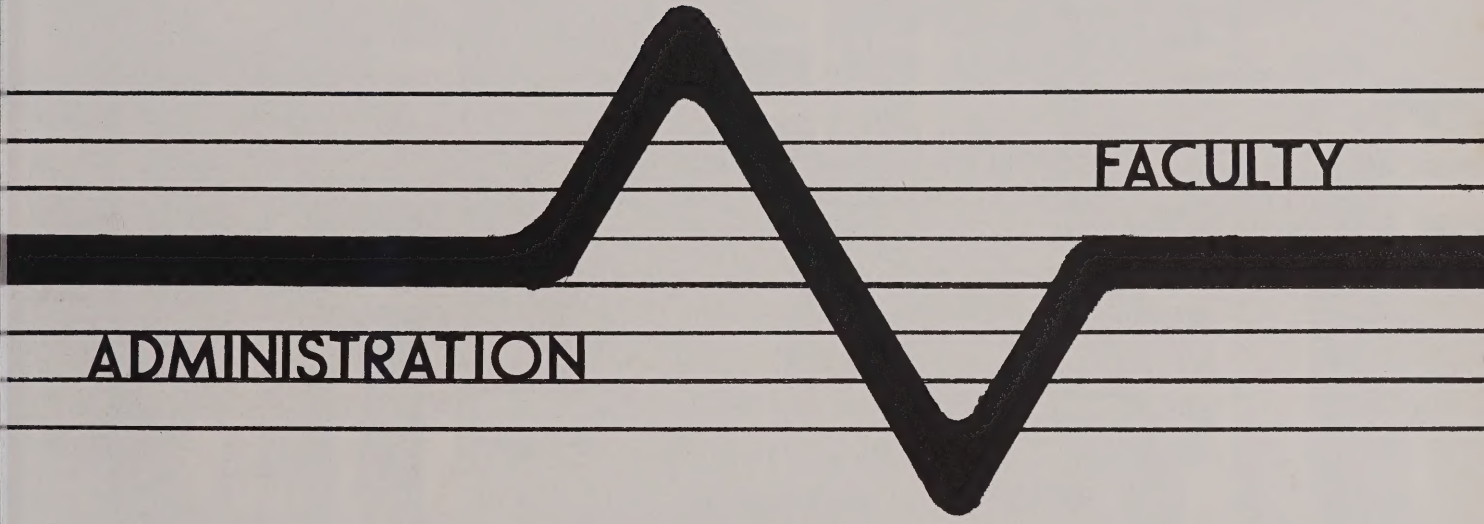

Yet, with all of these accomplishments, Mrs. Noyes said, "I still feel that my major achievement lies in the help I have been able to give young people in gaining confidence and speech skills in the classroom. I have met literally hundreds of young people that I have enjoyed knowing and they have enriched my life tremendously. To have watched many of them progress into fine men and women who have made great contributions to our society is, in itself, the greatest satisfaction a teacher can know."

Being a past student of Mrs. Noyes, I believe her career has been satisfying because she put her entire being into it. I have never met a more vibrant, challenging teacher.

On behalf of the hundreds of young people, I thank you Mrs. Noyes.

A message from the president:

Doug Zaletel

"I came to GV as a freshman because it was less expensive than other colleges. But, after an uninvolved year, I knew something was missing. UK was the means for me to get what I was missing. Through it I established close ties with certain faculty and administration members. This past year has been especially exciting because more students became active in the council. My goal was to leave something on campus to be remembered by. Through UK, I think I have accomplished this goal.

We became a group of friends working toward a student union. A lot of people put in a lot of time in the Inner Sanctum. It still needs many improvements, but the 1974-75 UK council named it and laid the ground floor for it."

UK is the center of student involvement. It is both a governing and social medium. The name UK is an abbreviation of the Danish, Unge Kraefter, which means powerful youth. Unge Kraefter serves as a title and challenge to the council members.

Inner Sanctum Committee

Members are, left to right: Gary Turner, Cathy Patton, Tom
Burford, Wendy Walters, Phil
Reser, Scott Doane, Marcia Flesher and Doug Zaletel.

Inner Sanctum is the name chosen for the GV student center. This years' committee has transformed it from a dreary basement to the initiation of a new home. Carpeting throughout the area, a new pool table and constant cleaning are among the improvements. Memories of Dick Staude, a former Art major at GV, color the walls and planning stages of redecoration hope to finish the desired atmosphere.

Below are two art works exhibited in the building; done by Dick Staude.

Grand View Singers

"The Grand View Singers, originally formed as a madrigal group on campus, changed to more contemporary style when Dr. Richard Stromberg, associate professor of music, became director in 1970. The Singers became part of the Easter tour group in 1973. They participated in the liturgical portion of the Lenten worship service, and also presented concerts of show tunes at various high schools along the tour route.

For the 1975 tour the music and drama departments were merged into a single performing unit for the production of the Maas-tricht Easter Play, with dramatic direction by Professor Dickson and musical direction by Dr. Stromberg.

The discovery in 1947 of the manuscript of a 12th century liturgical music-drama in the Royal Library of the Hague proved to be a rare musical find. Between the beautiful carved ivory covers of an Evangelarium which contained the gospels and liturgical practices of Our Lady's Church in Maas-tricht, Holland, was re-vealed an Easter play of full proportions containing text, music and detailed stage di-rections. It was in Our Lady's Basilica in Maastricht that the play had enjoyed a remarkable 300 year tradi-tion of regular performance, from about 1200 to 1500, and was then laid aside until its recent rediscovery."

The surrounding pictures are from the Singers per-formance for the homecom-ing weekend. They partici-pated in Studenterfest by singing in the Science Plaza on Saturday, May 3, from 1:00-6:00 p. m.

Dorm Officers

This year has been a successful one for the Dormitory Council of the Men's Residence. The Council drafted, carried out acceptance procedures and implemented a complete Constitution for the government of the dormitory---the only such document or attempt in the recent past. In addition, the Council drafted a set of rules for conduct, and secured a reliable source of fundings for activities. Along with the Women's Residence it sponsored many activities for the residents of the dorm community.

This year the Council has established a foundation for good government in the years ahead. It is now the responsibility for those who come after us to carry on what we have started. We wish them luck and prosperity.

Tom Christensen
Men's Dorm President

Randy Popken--Senior Resident-advisor to Dorm Council, Dick Grant--Second floor representative, Dale Scott--Secretary, Treasurer.

Delta Psi Omega

Delta Psi Omega is a national honorary dramatic fraternity founded to recognize and reward all phases of student participation in college play production. To be eligible for membership, a student must have played a major role in a three-act play or its equivalent in one-act plays, or have participated in stage work as defined in the national constitution of the organization. This year's members include, left to right: Jude Berard, Valerie Hall, Charles Dickson -- advisor, Chris Watts, and Nan Johnson.

Grand View Folk Dancers

Authentic Danish costumes and matching nationalities composed the original Grand View Folk Dancing group. It originated with the foundation of the college.

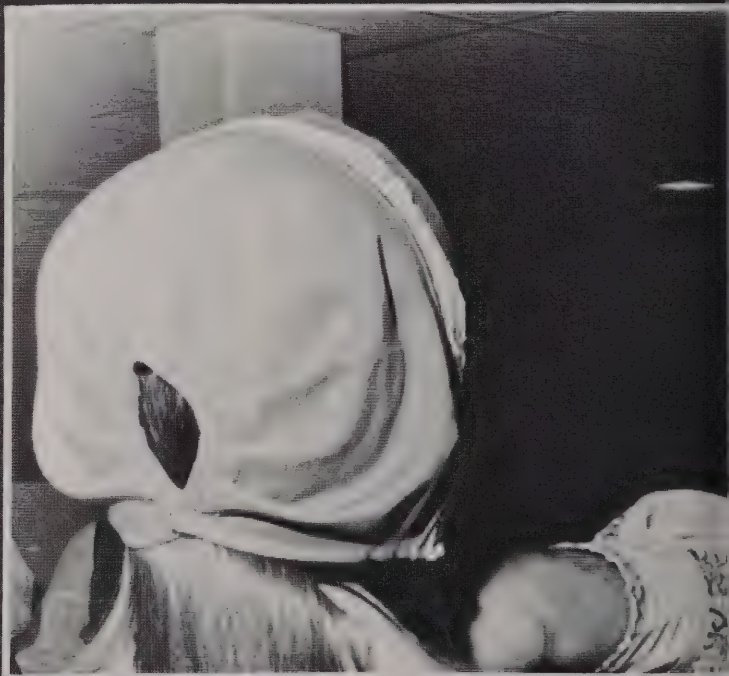

As the red bricks of old main revealed weathered tones, the costumes of the dancers became relics of fun. As shown in the group picture, contemporary touches of jeans and tennis shoes have replaced the original dress. But the age of the tradition, like the age of the school, passes on an era of family, one.

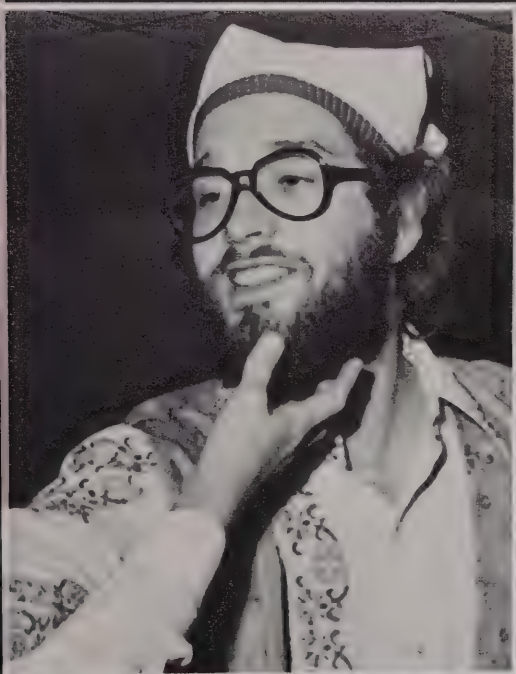

Far right: Melanie Garred and Jon Holmen follow the quick pace of a refined dance called "Bluebells".

Friday Noon

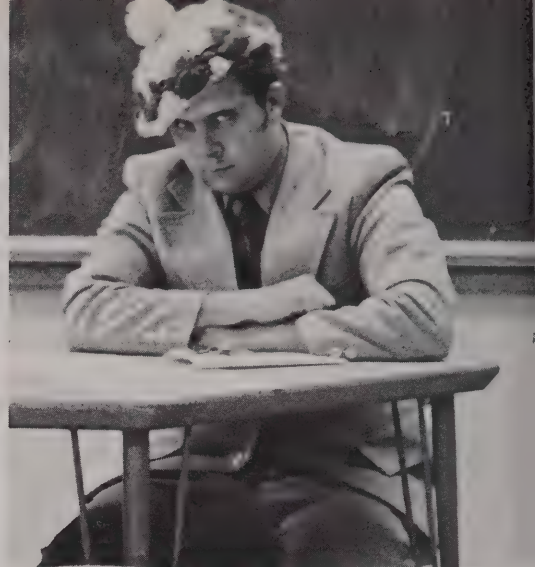

Friday Noon is no longer just a group of people who like to write. Friday Noon is a group of friends. Variations in style and appreciation keep the group in constant growth. Yet, they have one basic philosophy: Poetry is created to be read aloud. This past year the group visited high schools in Des Moines and surrounding areas.

Their unique identity will be savored in summer outings and in the annual publication of Friday Noon.

The 1974-75 cheerleading squad vibrates a new spirit in firsts. Julie, Beverly, Peggy and Stephanie serve as four alternating captains. This unusual classification functions well. It allows the girls to share responsibility and experience. As a result, they have adapted various types of cheers; straight, soul, sing-song, and chant. Their cheers and spirit have expanded from men's basketball to women's basketball, gymnastics and baseball. Julie said, "We want to represent Grand View and build enthusiasm in every way we can". With life like Julie's ". . . we can".

Students Political Awareness Alliance

SPAA received final approval as an official club this year. With the aid of money donated by Dr. Etchison in a book sale, the club set down its goals and requirements:

Constitution of the Grand View College

Article II. PURPOSE

Section A. The purpose of this organization shall be:

1. to increase student awareness of their political roles as citizens of the United States; . . .

3. to stimulate thinking and discussion among the greater D.M. area with regards to contemporary social and political issues and problems; . . .

5. to be responsible for bringing to the GVC campus speakers, scholars, politicians, and films, displays, and movies which promote the foregoing purposes.

Lou Yacinich

"In 1974, the Grand View Vikings were crowned Region XI Champions, the first time since 1965." They were Sub-Regional Champions for the 1975 season. In the '75 Iowa Conference, the Vikings won 12 games and lost 10. Including the games played outside the Conference, their record totaled 18 games won and 15 lost. Outstanding players were chosen as all stars for the All Regional First Team, they were Lance Brauer and Chip Elefson. The two top players set new records for the 1975 Vikings: Lance had five triples, seven home runs and 33 runs batted in. Chip made 26 bases on balls, scored 24 runs and stole 18 bases. Steve Forrester and Kevin Chaney were selected for the All Regional Second Team. Head Coach, Lou Yacinich also received honors. Mr. Yacinich was named Iowa Junior College Coach of the Year. This was his third year at GVC. "In 1972, Coach Yacinich began his career with 13 candidates, who compiled a 3-14 season. 1973 saw the introduction of a five-week fall practice session, a spring tour of the St. Louis area during Easter vacation, and 20 candidates posting a 28-17 season."

"In the past three years, Coach Yacinich's squad members have received academic and athlete scholarships at institutions of higher learning throughout the U.S., and some are performing in the professional ranks."

Women's Sports Banquet Honors Patty Fogleman As Athlete of the Year

The banquet was held at the Bavarian Haus Restaurant on May 12, for all GVC women athletes. President Langrock and Thomas Fischer, V.P. for Academics attended the event with Lee Doidge as Master of Ceremonies. Karen Bason, volleyball coach and gymnastics assistant, Charles Jacobson, softball and gymnastics coach and Rod Lein, basketball coach were there to recognize each sports participant with a certificate and rose. Then, the outstanding player from each sport was awarded with a plaque. Those players were: Sherri Luett--basketball, Linda Jennings--softball, Sherri Weiss--volleyball and Lori Pike--gymnastics. Following the division awards, Mr. Jacobson announced Patty Fogleman as the first woman athlete of GVC to receive the Athlete of the Year award. On the plaque, placed in the college gymnasium is a list of the outstanding women athletes for each year, from 1968 to 1975. It seems fitting for Patty to be the first recipient of this award, as Mr. Jacobson said "Patty is the most talented gymnast GVC has even had enrolled in its student body."

Women's Volleyball Team

"Developing the asset of sportsmanship and competitive spirit while gaining a skill and knowledge of the game was a goal of the women's volleyball team for the 74 season."

After finishing fifth in the state for the 73 season, the team had only three returning players; Donna Chapman, sophomore, Carol Anderson, junior and Sherri Weiss, junior. However, the inexperienced club still won almost 50 per cent of its games this season. Coach Karen Bason was proud of the team results under this disadvantage. "It is very difficult to take an almost new team and teach them what a net or a spike is and then compete against schools with experienced teams."

Purdue soars high over Council Bluffs players for two points.

Forrester displays his ability as he scores for Vikings.

Brantley drives for another Viking score.

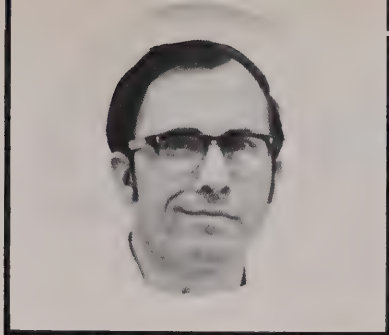

Men's Golf Team

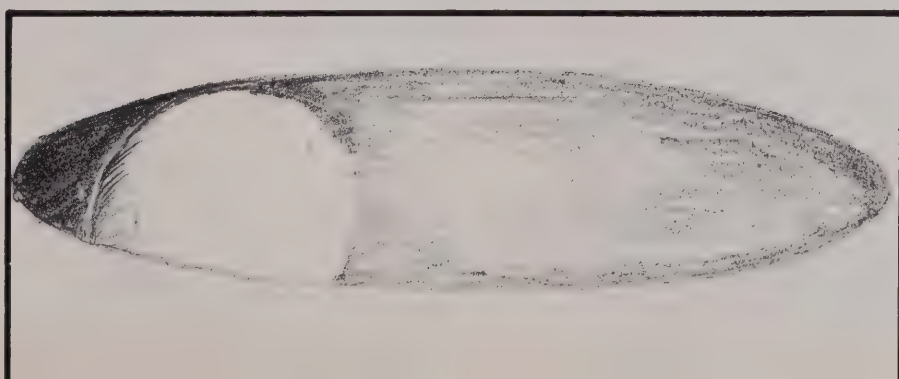

A season of success lead the 1974 Men's Golf Team to becoming Region XI Champions. It began with 16 wins, one tie and one loss during the regular season. Chris Vandell set the Junior College record; one under par 70, at Willow Creek on April 16. Friday, May 10 the team entered the Region XI tournament at Marshalltown. Competing against 15 other teams, GVC won with 316 strokes. Marshalltown was second at 317 strokes. Tim Lathrop aided GVC when he holed out a 110 yard wedge shot on No. 17.

From June 4-7, the team competed in the National tournament at Lehigh Acres, Florida. After the second round, GVC ranked 20 out of 23 teams.

The team continued this pattern of success opening the 1975 season against Ellsworth ($11\frac{1}{2}$ - $3\frac{1}{2}$), and Boone (10-0). Their team score was 314, two strokes better than their tournament score last year. Coach Gertenrich is hoping for another trip to the Nationals.

Women's Gymnastics

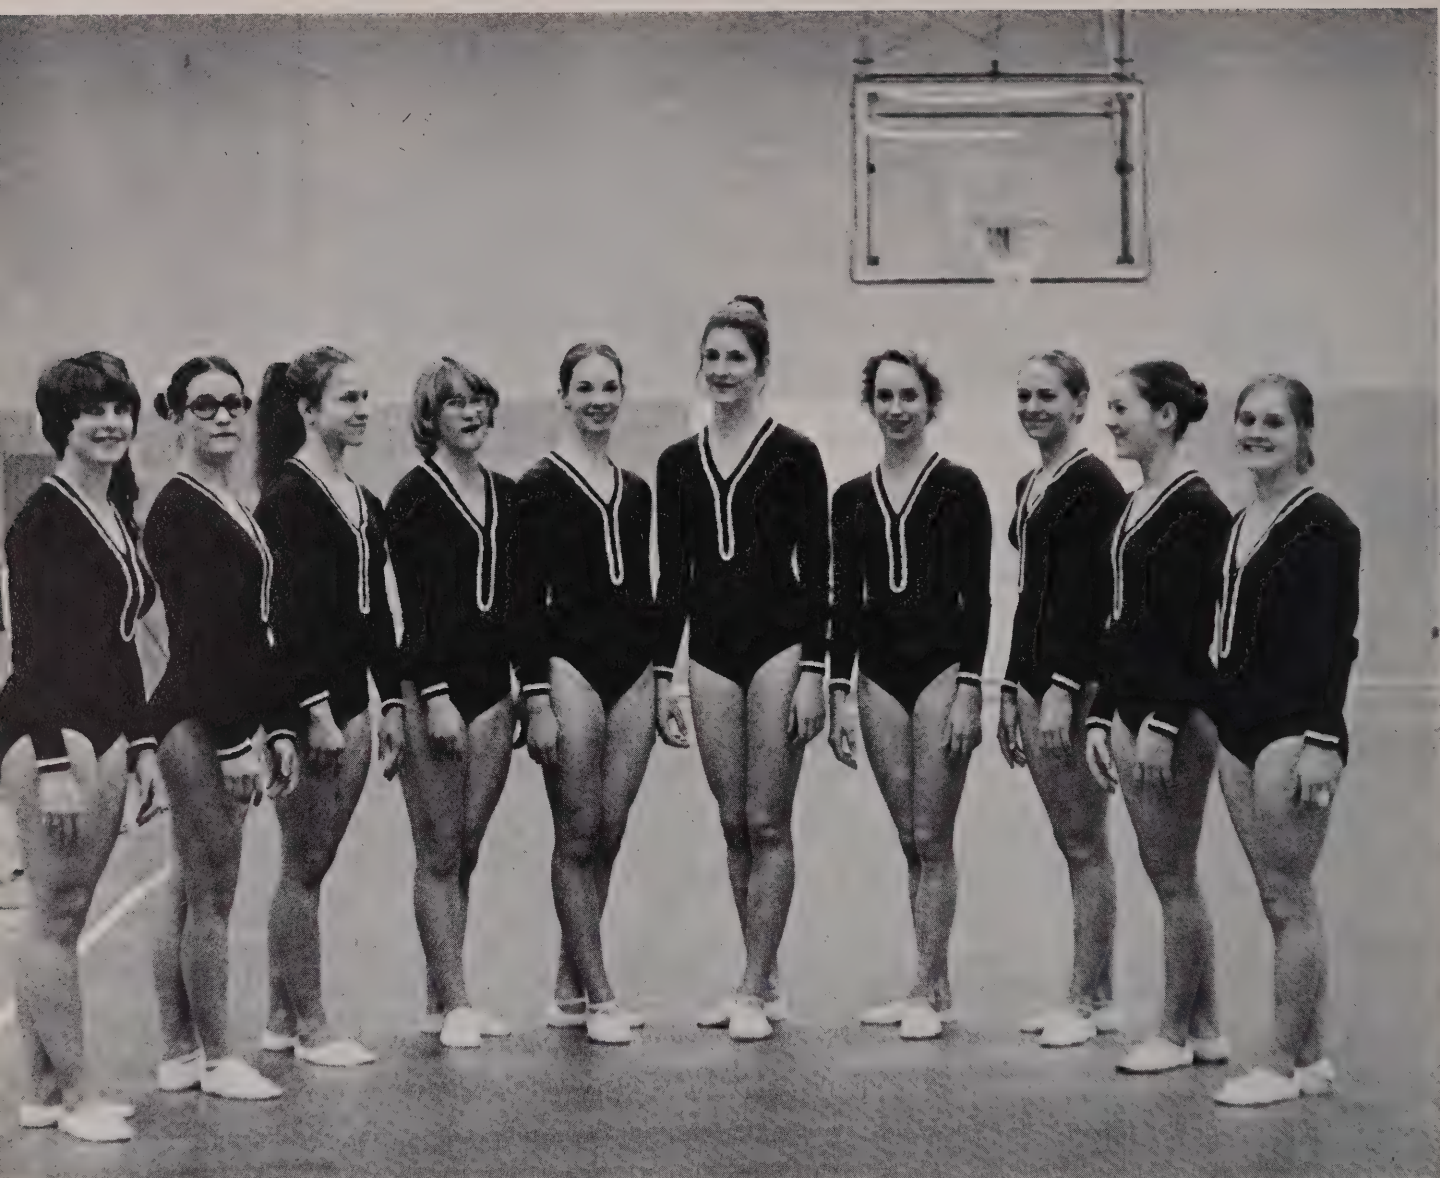

Set Iowa School Record in the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women

Grand View scored a record 101.70 and placed seventh in the AIAW National Championships at California State University in Hayward, California. This finish was the highest of all Iowa schools. Patti Fogleman was the team leader. She placed fifth in floor, seventh in bars and tenth in beam. Patti placed eighth in the all-around with 35.80 points. She set the record high for a GVC gymnast and was the only Iowa qualifier.

Team members, left to right: Renee Boyer is a sophomore from DeWitt, Iowa. Renee finished ninth in floor at the Regionals and just missed the finals in vaulting. Karla Gerbig was with GVC gymnasts from her freshman to junior year. Her areas of performance are vault, bars and beam. Lori Pike is a freshman from Excelsior, Minnesota. Lori is an All-around gymnast. Ann Long is a sophomore from Ottumwa, Iowa. Ann finished ninth in vaulting at the Regionals. Judy Steinlage is an All-around gymnast. Her best areas are bars, beam and floor. She is a freshman from Louisville, Kentucky. Judy Pauley is an All-around gymnast, but her specialties are in floor, beam and vault. Judy is a freshman from Defiance, Iowa. Viki Spars is a freshman from Sioux Falls, South Dakota. She performs on the bars and beam. Dorcella Barker finished sixth in floor at the Regionals and qualified for Nationals. She is especially strong in floor and beam. Dorcella is a sophomore from Rock Island, Illinois. Patti Fogleman is a freshman from Cedar Falls, Iowa. She was the team boost for points at the National gymnastics meet. Patti is eligible to qualify for the Olympics this fall. Lynn Counter concentrates her work on the bars. She is a freshman from Newton, Iowa.

I could not help being struck with the foolishness of that institution which treated me as if I were mere flesh and blood and bones, to be locked up . . .

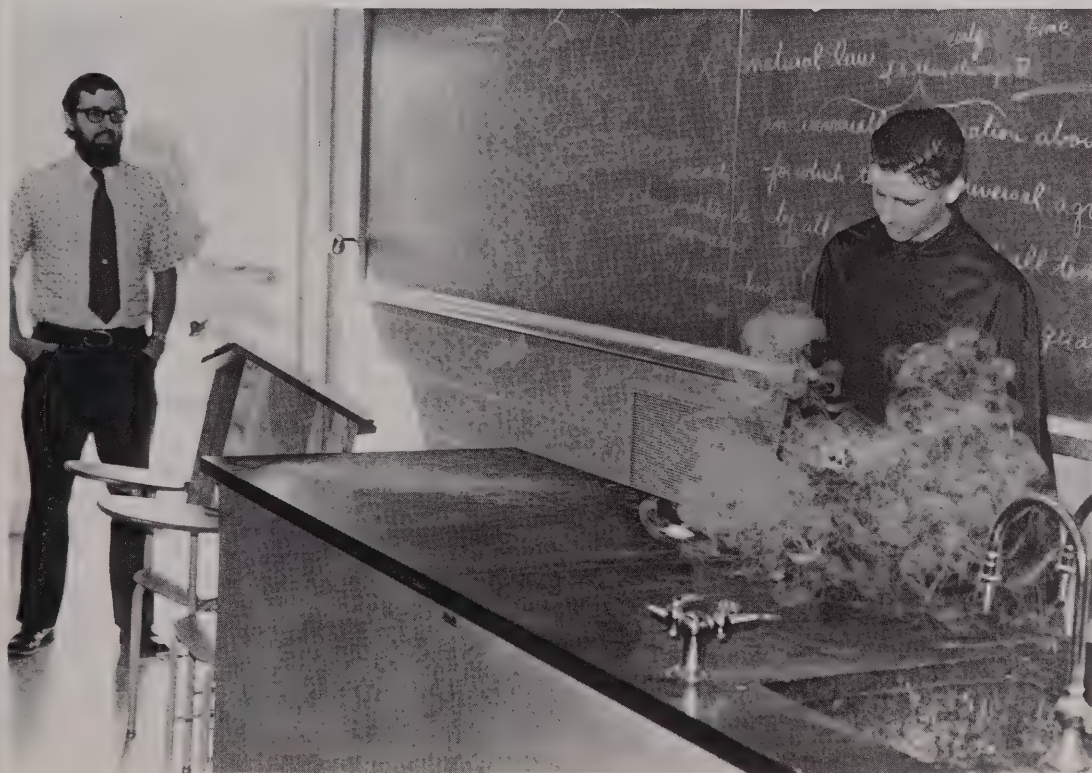

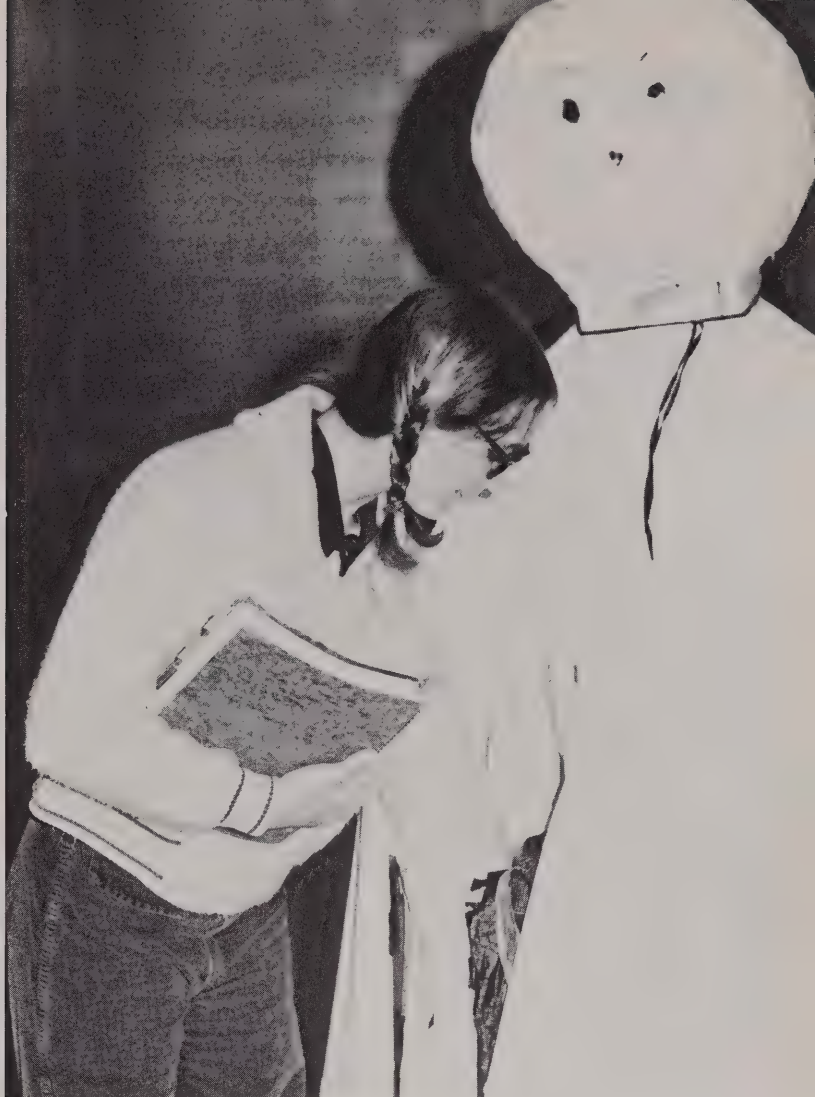

I saw that, if there was a wall of stone between me and my townsmen, there was a still more difficult one to climb or break through before they could get to be as free as I was.

Henry David Thoreau
Civil Disobedience

If a man
does not keep pace
with his companions perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer.

Let him keep step to the music
which he hears,
however measured or far away.

Henry David Thoreau

Set me adrift in a sea of hope-
Set my sale to a new horizon.

If only I may grow:
firmer, simpler, quieter, warmer.

Dag Hammarskjöld

Consistency is the last refuge of the unimaginative.

Oscar Wilde

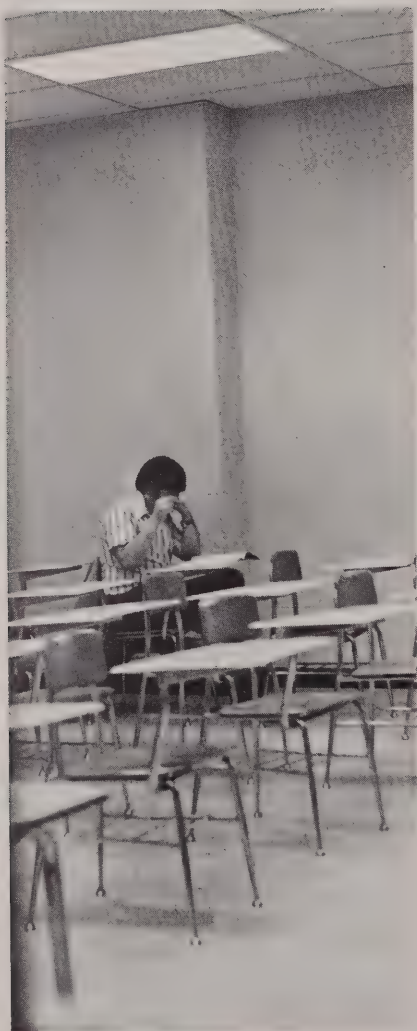

Accept me
As I am -
Only then will we discover each other.

Federico Fellini

CORPUS CHRYSLER

How should I begin the story--
 The lamp-god sat up from his bed to spy . . .
Or how can I begin to tell you-- it was morning in Dunferline toun and the waves of the fathers lapped
 the Lapland shores . . .
The story of all known glory-- the clouds shuffled across the sky-stage and static current lept from finger to finger, from electrode to electrode . . .
Ageless it might serve to bore you-- lashed his limbs the masts of all vessels it was morning in cold Dunferline toun
 the damaged image upon his side . . .
Ageless though it might serve to warn you--
 My God but for a spot o' tea and cakes!
 My butcher had left me in care of his shop-- he won't be long . . .
How should I begin the story--
 Ba Ba Black sheep, have ye any wool?
 Yea sir Yea sir a meat locker full.
Ageless it might serve to serve you--
 Awhr away with such talk!
 Bring on the sack
 I hope your bones grow white from the cold and the coal carbies fatten on your corpus till he can't take wing again!
Or how can I begin to tell you--
 Lamb-god Lamb-god, tell me if you can;
 Who's to be our Popeye sailor man?

Words tumble revealing my moments pain, polished into neat sentences that are orderly, rational,
and easy to understand,
like products from an assembly line.

But my organism aches to communicate
the nonsense of uncensored emotions, trusting they will be understood and comforted through the strength of love.

IF YOU REMEMBER ME

Pass the bread,
Pour the wine
and sing a gentle song.
I shan't be coming home tonight,
the grave is much too strong.

Grieve not hard
my going forth,
for life is far too brief.
But pass the bread and pour the wine
for here is life's relief.

Be not sad
and dry your tears
if you remember me.
For I have crossed
this stormy life
to calm eternal seas.

Ray Benson

A DAY

Mercurial eyes,
listen silver shining lobes,
pale ponds morning mid-July,
tossing from the road,
stones of amber roundness size,
a rocky pylon paradise,
for my home,
Alone,
In sundown kingdom,
A coloring book sigh,
soars with wings of past unknown,
beyond my grasping human bone,
across the wicked, dying, sky,
Alone,
finds me home,
Alone

RED BALL JET BLUES

Red-Ball-Jet boy wore wing tip shoes Worked a peaceless puzzle irreversible News
Played upon a spoonerism made the symbols clash Philosophic-fancy-labeled ornamented trash.
Cold coffee hours
wasted unicycle day Never dared simplicity that Penny Loafers pay Spent a lifetime seasoning
egocentric views
Apathetic wing-tip man
Red Ball Jet Blues.

CRIPPLED

With head bowed the runner strides across the meadows
lopes through the trees
Ignoring the snorts of distraught horses leaving his sweat to fall in the breeze.

Pumping muscles which ache with each move Pushing legs with nothing to prove

The runner leaps across the stream
Around the bend nearing a dream
Which soon will end when he awakens

To find no more striding runner.

SNOWED-IN

Hawks don't soar when Cold winds roar.
Sparrows don't sing when
The feed's all gone.

I've never seen-such-snowed-in-cover.
I'll never wingawinteragain.

Those browndout weeds havenoseeds;
Here I sit on a frozenfence.

I've found the last seed
Behind the dead peel on the crooked elm.

If there are no more seeds,
There are no more songs.

Feathers must be fed;
Shuffle through the papers,
Scratching sun seeds in the snow.
Ruffle through the feathers,
Hear the whistle of the snow.

Shuffle through the papers.

LITTLE ITALY

Gold inscription, solid surface-- Growning stages of family,
Withered pages hold fresh smiles,
Ties of blood flow in me.

Morning scents rise yeasty in outdoor ovens,
Women bellow scoldings in tired foreign tongues,
Men signal rails with flares,
View your coffin on living room floors,
Sway black garments and rosary bead prayers
Hide in echoing night trains.

Mom caresses corn silk friend,
Watches "Cisco Kid" bring rocking joy
To crippled age,
"Oh Pancho!"

old man strikes another flare
"Oh Cisco"--
rocking ceases, eyelids close,
Grandpa didn't know

And the pismire is equally perfect,

Would adorn the parlors of heaven . . .
